

Finding the right solution for your replacement project

It's time to replace and upgrade

1

Modern VELUX roof windows are designed with larger glazing areas, meaning even if you change your old roof window for one of the same size, you will be bringing more daylight into your space.

2

When it comes to energy efficiency, an old roof window (even in good condition) is no match for a modern VELUX roof window with its built-in insulation and improved glazing.

3

When replacing old pine VELUX roof windows, we recommend a white maintenance-free internal finish - the most robust and durable option that is completely maintenance-free.
