VELUX COMMERCIAL: SERVING YOUR DAYLIGHTING NEEDS EVERY STEP OF THE WAY

At VELUX Commercial, we understand the importance of supporting you, the contractor and installer, throughout a commercial project.

We draw on 80 years of rooflight experience and the expertise of a dedicated team of daylight specialists. Our full range of daylight solutions, design and visualisation tools, product selection advice, technical support, aftersales service and comprehensive guarantees mean we offer a true end-to-end service that is unique to the commercial market.

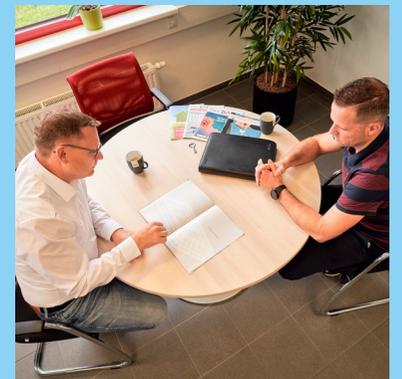

Whatever your project or performance requirement, our products and services make it easier than ever to specify and install high-quality rooflights, domes and structural glass systems, keep installation and technical expertise close to hand, and leave your customers with a long-lasting, reliable result.

Talking to VELUX Commercial should be the start of your next daylighting project.

We had excellent early engagement with the VELUX Commercial technical team that helped us work through the detailing aspects and understand and identify any issues early on in the process.
